PRESS RELEASE

AGRONOMIST GETS SET FOR COAST TO COAST CYCLE CHALLENGE

Tuesday 24th May 2011

Nottinghamshire Agronomist Peter Brumpton is getting set for a coast to coast cycle ride from Bridlington in the East Riding of Yorkshire to Morecambe in Lancashire to raise money for the Royal Agricultural Benevolent Institution.

The challenge follows the Way of the Roses cycle route, encompassing 174 miles from the east to the west coast, which Peter plans to ride from the 3rd to 5th June 2011. Commenting on the up and coming challenge Peter said: "I have been training for three months in order to complete the ride, which covers some of Britain most beautiful terrain', in three days.

"I decided I wanted to do this challenge because there are times when you need to push yourself to your limit and beyond. I chose to fundraise for RABI because I work in the industry and it is nice to try to give something back to support those less fortunate."

In order to raise as much money as possible, Peter has set up a JustGiving page to collect online donations. If you would like to support Peter in his bid to raise £1,000 for RABI, please visit: <http://www.justgiving.com/Peter-Brumpton>

RABI is farming's national charity, founded in 1860 to provide financial and practical assistance to members of the farming community who are in need, suffering hardship or in distress. No one knows what lies ahead and RABI may be able to help. For more details on the work of RABI please visit www.rabi.org.uk. If you think you know someone who might need our help please call the confidential helpline on: 01865 727888
